SENATOR REYNOLDS'

LAURELTON

For the need is past—much to our surprise. The public wouldn't wait, so to the winds with an opening date! We've been literally swept off our feet, so great the demand for Laurelton Lots since the recent interview with Senator Reynolds appeared in The World. 'Twas a simple statement of what he purposed doing with his latest purchase and no particular selling effect was looked for-but 'twas like touching a match to gunpowder!-the response was instantaneous and hundreds of lots are gone already-over $500,000 worth-for they would come and they would buy, way ahead of our intended marketing. And they're keeping it up all right-coming more and more. So we'll simply cut out the opening day idea and say, "All right-come on, then-come everybody-since the bars are down we'll throw everything wide open and deliver at once, to all comers-there's no need to wait if you'll take us as we are-still in the rough. In fact, better not wait, now the rush is on. You can get your lots to-day-you can see perfectly well what Laurelton is and is to be-you know perfectly well that what Mr. Reynolds undertakes to do will be done, and done according to schedule. You don't need to be told all about transit improvements and realty values and increases and profits-the newspapers have told your that all along-other real estate ads. have told you that, time and again-we'll just give you our facts and figures and terms and inducements, and let you be the judge and jury. If you weigh all the evidence thoroughly, we know what your verdict will be and won't need to appeal our case. Just see the property-that's all we ask-it sells itself. But first get the story. Location and Transit Facilities.

Laurelton is in Queens Borough, New York City, Just south of Jamalca. It is the first station beyond Jamalca on the third-rail electric system of the Long Island Railroad and ad-Joins Springfield on the Long Island's steam Montauk Division, at the Junction of these two nes, where both are crossed by the Freeport trolley connecting with the Fulton St. Brooklyn Elevated and the Jamaica and Rockaway trolleys.

This aggregation of lines gives an excellent service now and will be still further improved, for the millions being spent on transit improvement affect Laurelton directly. To-day, how-ever, steam trains run to Long Island City in 25 minutes, while third-rail through trains reach Platbush ave depot, Brooklyn, in 23 minutes and will carry you to Manhattan in 5 minutes more on completion of Brooklyn's subway.

The famous Metrick Road forms Laurelton's eastern frontage for nearly a mile and will become its business section. The stores, schools, churches and other advantages of Jamaica and Springfield are within easy access, as are the Rockaway beaches. Being within the city limits, Laurelton secures police and fire protection, free postal and department store delivery, and other advantages not enjoyed by residents beyond the city line.

High Grade Development.

Laurelton is being transformed into a private residential park of the highest order. The improvements planned and now well under way are by far the most elaborate and extensive yet undertaken in Queens. Even those of beautiful Borough Park and Senator Reynolds' other ooklyn developments will here be quite surpassed. Over twelve blocks along the entire western frontage will be devoted to a private park system. The contracts call for ten miles of 85-foot boulevards with parked centres, and ten more miles of 60-foot streets, 40 miles of cement sidewalks, 5 feet wide, with 5-foot grass plots each side, 60 miles of cement curbing, shade trees where not already growing, semi-tropical foliage and flowering plants, shrubbery, etc. Hedge in the park and at the head of Laurelton Boulevard, will stand the club-house (described in next column) and opposite Cortlandt Boulevard the new Laurelton depot and station grounds; the pergola and several residences of artistic individuality will adorn other commanding locations. The practical utilities, electric lights, water, etc., are provided for, and no expense or effort will be spared to make Laureiton a home suburb of which every resident will be proud, AND AN IN-VESTMENT PROPOSITION OF RAPIDLY ENHANCING VALUE.

This latter fact must be self-evident to every shrewd buyer of real estate who has made a study of New York realty conditions and the essential requirements for largest assured profits.

$50,000 Clubhouse.

An important factor in the social life and uphullding of Borough Park was its clubhouse. Larger and finer yet is the one designed for the use of Laurelton's property owners. Of early English style, well appointed and arranged with dining and assembly rooms, cafe, billiard parlors and bowling alleys, it will give instant tone and character to the community and prove a valued feature as a gathering place for residents and their friends. Tennis courts will be laid out on the adjoining lawns and an automobile garage be built near by.

$15,000 Station, Pergola, etc.

The Pennsylvania-Long Island Rallroad, recognizing the magnitude and permanency of the Laurelton plans, and the consequent importance of this junction point, exceeded by several thousand dollars their customary appropriation for suburban stations, and have planned a large and attractive depot, securing also an unsually large plot for the approach and surrounding grounds. Further along the track, southerly, but in the park and standing sentinel over another boulevard approach, the pergola or colonnade of columns sur-mounted by open work roof for vines will form another distinctive feature in the varied landscape effects. A bird's-eye view, picturing these unique details, may be had for the asking-a postal card will do
